Status	written without review by a lawyer; the suspension procedure is to be reviewed. The French version is the reference text
Assumptions	H-02 (00 § 2)
Place	contract document of the terms of service (document 02), cited by the terms of use (document 01)

Prohibited uses

Nhill may not be used to:

1. try to access another business's data, bypass access controls or test security without the Publisher's written permission;
2. deliberately overload the Service (massive automated requests, unauthorised bots);
3. share an account between several people, or give access to a third party;
4. record unlawful content, unlawfully obtained data, or sensitive data (health, opinions, biometric data) without a legal basis;
5. issue false documents, conceal transactions or defraud a tax administration;
6. send unsolicited commercial messages from the Service's functions;
7. resell or make the Service available to third parties without the Publisher's written agreement (document 10);
8. decompile the applications beyond what the law allows.

Reporting a vulnerability

Anyone who discovers a flaw reports it to support@nhill.online (subject "Security") without exploiting or disclosing it before it is fixed. The Publisher acknowledges the report and keeps the person informed of its handling.

Measures

In case of breach, the Publisher may, depending on its seriousness: warn, suspend a user account, suspend the business (read-only) or end the contract, after warning the Customer except in an emergency (security, fraud, request from an authority). Every action of the platform on a business is justified and recorded in the audit log.
