30-second and 2-minute pitches

1. 30-second pitch (≈ 75 words)

> Many traders in Kinshasa end the day with a till notebook that doesn't add up, without knowing what's left in stock or what each seller collected.
>
> Nhill is simple management software: every sale is recorded under the cashier's name, the stock follows, and the owner sees everything from their phone, even when away.
>
> We offer a 30-day assisted free trial, with installation and training. May I show it to you with your products in fifteen minutes?

2. 2-minute pitch (≈ 300 words)

> The problem. In a 2025 survey of 914 small Congolese businesses, half already use digital tools, almost all a smartphone — but only one in five of those equipped uses stock software. The till, the stock and control of sellers stay on paper. The result: differences nobody can explain, stock-outs found too late, and an owner who can never be away.
>
> What Nhill does. Nhill brings three applications onto one server. Nhill POS for the till: sell fast, several payment methods, discounts approved by a supervisor, a closing where the cashier counts without seeing the expected amount. Nhill Business for the rest: stock through movements, purchases, expenses, invoices and credit sales, per-employee reports, and an activity log nobody can erase. All in French and English, in Congolese francs and dollars, on computers, and on Android tablets or phones for Nhill Business.
>
> What sets us apart. Nhill is built for local reality: an operation cut by a network outage is retried without being counted twice; each business is isolated from the others in the database; and we provide on-site support in Kinshasa.
>
> What Nhill is not. It is not standardised-invoice software certified by the DGI: VAT payers keep their tax device and use Nhill for management.
>
> Where we are. Version 3.0 is built and tested; we offer a 30-day assisted free trial to a small number of businesses, to set prices from measured results.
>
> What we ask. Fifteen minutes for a demo with your products.

Ending to use with a partner, instead of the last sentence:

> What we ask. Introduce us to traders in your network, or host a workshop for your members.
